Learning 4 All

ALL STAFF IN MAINSTREAM AND SPECIAL EDUCATION SETTINGS Including leadership, Special Education and wellbeing coordinators, counsellors, classroom teachers, and support staff

PARENTS AND CARERS ARE WELCOME TO ATTEND

This workshop is intended for all school staff working with students or involved in planning, program or policy development for student wellbeing when working with students with intellectual disability. This practical workshop will provide information and hands-on learning about using a team approach to support students in transitioning well into new school or class environments; to prepare the new environments in a way that maximises successful inclusion; or just for refreshing skills to ensure a more successful experience in the future in continuing environments.

Learning outcomes for this workshop include:

- Understanding the student – characteristics, learning skills and challenges
- Developing social skills – using visuals – independent learning – contracts
- Collaborative practice – all levels of staff, parents and peers
- Understanding behaviour and Influences on behaviour.

Certificates will be provided that include reference to the Teacher Standards that apply to this workshop:

- ✓ Standard 1.6. Work with colleagues to access specialist knowledge, and relevant policy and legislation, to develop teaching programs that support the participation and learning of students with disability
- ✓ Standard 7.3. Identify, initiate and build on opportunities that engage parents/carers in both the progress of their children's learning and in the educational priorities of the school.

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Kymerly is a Behavioural Scientist with a background in special education and student wellbeing, in addition to a degree in psychology. She currently works as a professional learning consultant for educators across South Australia.

In the past Kymerly has worked in metropolitan and remote locations to develop programs for families and educators whose students face barriers to education. Her professional goal is to use her knowledge of psychology with her experience working in special education and wellbeing within the education sector to work with educators in their quest to improve educational engagement and success for students and members of the school community.
